

Have you ever wanted to lose weight but . People seeking to lose weight struggle to stay motivated because they do not see immediate results.

The number one reason people fail at weight loss isn't diet or exercise—it's losing motivation when the results don't show up quickly.